

Easter Contest

The entry fee for the contest is $1.00

The Contest chairman buys a poster board and draws as many bunny faces as people who enter. It's merely an oval on it's side...to mimic the bunny's face. You do have to leave enough space between rows for the bunny's ears. Each member that enters writes their name below the bunny's head.

This next part can be done one of two ways.....either have a package of colored markers for drawing....and each week that a person loses....they get to "draw" an ear, next time another ear, the next an eye, the other eye, a bunny nose, whiskers and last but not least, a mouth. This contest lasts 7 weeks. Or if you add a bow tie it can go 8 weeks. If you would like it shorter you can color in the eyes (both of them at one time or the ears together.

The other method is that I cut those bunny features out of colored construction paper and they get to "glue" their features onto their bunny. Either way....the results can be hilarious. The person who completes their bunny first wins the "pot of money." Our members LOVE to win money!
