

Baby Food Jar: Quarter Contest

Each member puts 6 quarters in to a baby food jar and label the jar with their name.

Each week that they lose, they can remove one quarter.

If they gain, they must put in one additional quarter.

The first member to empty their jar, wins all the money left in the remaining jars.

You can also divide the winning pot with half the money going to the chapter and the other half going to the member.

You can also use dimes instead of quarters....what ever the chapter decides.

KOPS can do this one among themselves. Whoever stays in under goal the longest wins or whatever rules your chapter decides on. KOPS require special rules.
